J. F. HARNEY THINKS DEMOCRATS SHOULD REST AWRILE.

He Is from Montgomery County and Has Interesting Ideas About Several Public Matters.

James F. Harney, of Montgomery county one of the most prominent Democrats of the State, is of opinion that the Democracy should not nominate a ticket next year nor have an organization even. He thinks it will be useless. His advice to his Demo- vacant by Judge Francis E. Baker. cratic friends after the last defeat was to let matters rest until after the next general election. Mr. Harney's idea in allowing the Democracy to lie dormant so long is rather a shrewd one from his way of thinking. He is Democrat, for congressional honors, the among the ablest lawyers of the State and for six years was judge of the Circuit Court of Montgomery county. He was in the city | Robinson yesterday attending to some matters in the Supreme Court and took lunch at the Hotel English. Mr. Harney is not sure that he will attend the Jackson day banquet in this city. "I am not sure that I know where I said, and added: "I don't just know what it constitutes to make a Democrat these days." Continuing, he remarked. "I have been a Democrat all my life and never faltered nor wavered but once. That was in 1896, when I voted the Democratic ticket but did not vote for Bryan. It was all on account of that fool silver question. At the last national election Mr. Harney voted for Bryan because there were issues then that he could not afford to ignore, he said. Mr. Harney says that if he were making a Democratic platform he would make it after the style of Jefferson's inaugural address. This statement reminded alm of an instance when the late John Dowling, of Terre Haute, remarked when a set of resolutions were shown him that they were all right, but did not contain enough of "old Tom Jefferson." "If you want to get genuine Democracy go to ling added. Mr. Harney thinks that events will have to make the future of the Democratic party, "I don't think," he said, "that we can go back now and start on the old original lines. We will have to frame our theories on the facts as they now exist. He thinks the trusts and the labor questions will be leading subjects in the next campaign. "If you tolerate trusts," he said, "you have got to tolerate all that labor demanos. It is a case of one trust or combination opposing another. We are now tolerating a system of strikes in this country that practically means war, except that men do not mean to inflict personal injury." Mr. Harney thinks the New Zea-land idea of controlling strikes would be a good one for any country to follow. In that country strikes are not allowed. If a into court with it and must abide by the decision of that court. Mr. Harney was a member of the State Legislature several different times. Thoroughly familiar with the compositions on the programme and the method of orchestration developed to perfection by Mr. Thomas, Miss Faulkner set of men have a grievance they must go was able to make her auditors understand what she herself so well comprehends.

> After explaining that the bassoon is double reed instrument of great range of tone and capacity of expression, Miss Faulkner remarked that it is the clown of the orchestra, and is used whenever there is necessity of bringing out the grotesque The French horn, she said, comes from the ancient German hunting horn, with which hunters in the old German forests used to sound the game alarm. The trumpet is an instrument far more difficult to get proper expression from than the cornet, and on account of the scarcity of truly tine players only the largest orchestras have them. the most beautiful of orchestral instruments, the only one of the wood wind intruments in which the volume of sound can swell and diminish in the most satisfactory manner.

Passing to a discussion of the programme which will be presented Monday evening Miss Faulkner spoke at length on Weber's "Oberon." The foundation of the work is an old French legend telling of the adventures of Sir Huon of Bordeaux in quest become involved in a quarrel, Oberon refused to become reconciled to Titania unless she could present to him a pair of lovers who had proved themselves faithful to their love under all conditions. Puck, Huon in a vision the princess with whom he is to love; and finally, when Sir Huon returns from seeking the substance of the vision, the work closes with the reconciliation of Oberon and Titania. Paul Teichert reproduced skillfully on the piano the principal themes of "Oberon," and his rendition of the fairy theme, used whenever Sir Huon in dire need sounds his horn and the fairies flock to his aid, delighted his hearers. Miss Faulkner said that Richard Wagner, commenting on the beauty of the fairy theme in "Oberon." remarked that the motive was so far superior to similar motive in the Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream" that the fairles in the latter were flies in com-

Miss Faulkner analyzed the leading motives in Wagner's "The Rhinegold," and Mr. Teichert, at the piano, followed her by playing with marked effect the wonderful rainbow theme illustrating the passing of the gods over the great bridge of Walhalla into their new home. Mr. Teichert illustrated also the sword theme as explained by Miss Faulkner.

Referring to the selection in Monday night's concert from Richard Strauss, Miss of the most wonderful tone poems the world has ever seen. "On the Shores of Sorrento" she took as a means of explaining Her explanation of Chopin's funeral march was particularly interesting. She told her hearers that there is absolutely ing the circumstances under which the unrivaled march was produced. It has been said that Chopin conceived and wrote it while at a wild student revel, that he seated himself at a piano with a sheet wrapped around him, and, confronted by a grinning skeleton, constructed the march. As a matter of fact, Miss Faulkner said, the march was written when Chopin was suffering from deep depression following a terrible reverse of the Polish arms. As a true patriot Chopin's heart bled at the reverses of his countrymen and his agony found expression in the march. Miss Faulkner said that those who would hear the concert next Monday evening would have the pleasure of listening to the greatest orchestra in the world, and that under the leadership of Theodore Thomas

At the meeting to-day Mr. Coombs presented a number of suggestions in the form of amendments to the bill prepared by the Immigration Bureau. One of the amendments will reach Chinese highbinders. It provides: "Every notorious Chinese criminal, or Chinese engaged in inciting disorder, or breaking the law, or terrorizing the community, or whose general manner is against the peace and order of any State or of the United States, or who belongs to any society having such objects in view, shall be deemed to be unlawfully in the United States and subject to deportation. Such facts shall be established by general City, Pa., on Nov. 20 and will spend the reputation of such Chinese upon the testimony of not less than two credible witnesses other than Chinese."

Another amendment provides for keeping Chinese now in the Philippines or Hawaii from coming to this country, as follows: "No Chinese or person of Chinese descent, being lawfully in Hawaii or any of the insular possessions of the United States, shall be entitled to land or remain in the United States or any territory of the United States, exclusive of the place where he is entitled to be. These and numerous other amendments of importance in the legal proceedings for the deportation of Chinese are now under consideration by the committee.

Senate Committee on Commerce.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.-The Senate committee on commerce held a meeting tocommittees and referring to them the bills which have reached the committee. The most important change in the subcommittees was the substitution of Senator Berry as chairman of the subcommittee on bridges for Senator Vest. This position has been held by Senator Vest for a great many years, but was voluntarily surrendered by him on account of his health. The shipping bill was referred to the subcommittee on ships and shipping, of which Senator Frye is chairman, and of which Senator Hanna is a member. There are two bills before the committee for the estabishment of an executive department of the government to be known as the department of commerce and these were referrd to a special subcommittee, consisting of Senators Nelson, Hanna and Clay. The bill for the reorganization of the revenue cutter service was given to a special subcommittee consisting of Senators Gallinger, Penrose and Turner.

THE JOURNAL'S

Art Calendars for 1902

Two three-sheet Calendars, each sheet specially painted by Miss Maud Stumm, THE FAMOUS WATER-COLORIST of New York city.

Calendar No. 1 MAUDE ADAMS MAXINE ELLIOTT

JULIA MARLOWE MARY MANNERING VIOLA ALLEN

Each sheet devoted to an actress and her favorite flower, executed in this famous artist's most pleasing style.

The Calendars are beautifully lithographed, from the original water-color paintings, in twelve colors, on heavy pebble plate paper 12% inches wide by 10 inches high. Each three-sheet is tied with a silk ribbon.

You could not buy this Calendar at an art or book store for less than 50 cents.

We bought 6,000 and can sell them at 15 cents eachmailed to any address. When ordering state which Calendar you want and how many of each.

A more beautiful CHRISTMAS or NEW YEAR GREETING would be hard to find. This is not a gaudy Calendar, but is an unusually beautiful work of art. When you see one you will want several.

For the convenience of INDIANAPOLIS SUBCRIBERS who have not 15 cents in change or stamps to send us, or who cannot call at the office, we will fill telephone or mail orders and add the amount to the regular subscription bill.
